The Author's Story

The author was born in Poland in 1920. She was a young woman when the Nazis invaded Poland in 1939. She and her family were forced into a ghetto, and then later deported to a concentration camp.

The author spent several years in the concentration camp. She witnessed unspeakable horrors, and she lost many of her loved ones. But she never gave up hope. She fought for survival, and she refused to let the Nazis break her spirit.

Liberation

In 1945, the author was liberated from the concentration camp. She was one of the few survivors. She weighed only 75 pounds, and she was suffering from malnutrition and disease.
